Introduction

This policy sets out Wharton C of E Primary School's aims, strategies and protocol(s) for the successful delivery of remote teaching and learning. The policy should be shared and accessible to all stakeholders. This policy should be read in conjunction with other relevant school policies such as: Child Protection/Safeguarding, SEN, Behaviour, Teaching and Learning and Online Safety/E-Safety and SEN. This policy has been developed by the Computing Leader (Mrs Nikki King) in consultation with the Head Teacher and Designated Safe Guarding Lead, and in consultation with the school's governing body. Possible guidance and feedback from consultants, pupil, parent and staff voice questionnaires will continue to help shape this policy. This policy is based on government (DfE) guidance "Guidance for full opening: Schools, August 2020". The full document can be found here

Due to the pace at which new initiatives and legislation are introduced and updated, it is recommended that this policy is reviewed, at minimum every six months.

Our Vision

Wharton C of E Primary School believes that every child in our care has the right for a rich, fulfilling learning experience that provides them with the skills and knowledge for future life. We believe our remote learning provision, should we require it, should inspire and motivate our children to become lifelong learners. Our remote learning provision shouldn't just be limited to direct teaching time within the school but beyond the school gates, utilising the best technologies to provide this. Our core value that wraps around our learning intentions, is 'safeguarding for all.' With any technologies, support services and content providers we engage with, we will strive for the very best safeguarding practices to be in place at all times, this extends to staff, governors, pupils, parents and other key stakeholders' use of such technologies. Preventative, proactive and transparent approaches in all that we do to safeguard our school community will underpin any decision-making processes.

Our Aims

In developing our Remote Learning curriculum, we have considered the following as our aims:

- For our pupils to establish a love of reading and accept that this is the key to unlocking knowledge for all subjects.
- Pupils will read and write without unnecessary barriers; they will have a love and appreciation for high quality texts.
- Pupils will develop their skills of reading, writing and oracy, applying them in context and with purpose.
- Pupils' mathematical and scientific skill and knowledge will be grown and they will use it to help them make sense of the world.
- For our pupils to have a rich and broad understanding of relevant history and geography and know how this impacts their lives.

- To establish enjoyment, appreciation and a love of the arts: Including the development of musical and artistic skills.
- To foster our Christian values in our pupils' daily lives at school and home.
- Enable the provision for all pupils to access our curriculum through use of technologies not limited to the confines of school.
- Technologies used to support and enhance our curriculum will support all stake holders, fundamentally pupils, but they will also allow teachers and parents to provide the very best learning opportunities for pupils.
- Technologies utilised away from the school will enable pedagogical approaches to continue, where possible, as well as integrating with assessment systems.
- Any technologies utilised will give all stake holders a safe environment to learn, explore, teach and share.
- All our stakeholders will respect the power and enrichment of the technologies we adopt whilst demonstrating respect for self and others.
- Adequate safeguarding will be applied to all our technologies which will not be limited to just filtering and compliance to government legislation.

- Set appropriate learning activities to deliver a broad and ambitious curriculum, which can be formatively assessed, and data collected. We will continue to use Target Tracker as our whole school assessment system.
- Continue to follow the objectives outlined on that particular year groups Topic Overview so that objectives are not missed and learning is not lost
- Continue to follow any schemes of work currently in use by school, wherever possible. (For example, Pathways to Write, Letters and Sounds, First4Maths, Purple Mash)
- Utilise a number of different pedagogical strategies and resources, to support all the different learners within their class.
- Upload online lessons and activities on a daily or weekly basis, as appropriate, to our school website, before 9am on the day the work is to be completed.
- Provide daily feedback to pupils wherever possible, inline with written and verbal feedback that would be given in school. This may often include providing additional questioning or challenge in order to stretch or strengthen a child's understanding of a particular topic or concept and should be

In the event of remote learning being necessary, we expect our pupils to:

Where necessary modified teaching and learning resources will be provided, including printing packs as appropriate. This may also include the provision of additional resources, such as Numicon. Bespoke digital services and technology for individuals and groups of children are made available that best meet their needs.

We recognise that younger pupils, in addition to pupils with SEND, may not be able to access remote education without adult support, and therefore we will, where appropriate, work with families to ensure access to education.

Monitoring, Evaluation and Feedback

Monitoring standards of teaching remains the responsibility of the Head Teacher. The standard of learning taking place remotely, in the first instance is the responsibility of the class teacher and overseen by subject leaders.
